EXPERT OPTICAL SERVICE

Mr. A. Melville Anderson, Optometrist, of Anderson and McLean, Sight Specialist, Calgary wishes to announce his regular visit to the Raymond Pharmacy, Thursday Nov. 27th. Eyes examined, Glasses fitted.

Our first real snow started Wednesday morning falling steadily all day and night and Thursday morning there was about a foot of snow on the ground and drifts twice that deep in many places.

Bill Witbeck met with a painful and serious injury on Wednesday of this week, as a result of which he is carrying his arm in a sling. He was getting ready to kill a pig and had a rope on the leg of the porker. His knife was sticking in the wall above his head and when the pig jumped, in some way the rope threw Bill's hand against the sharp edge of the knife cutting an artery and severing the large tendon on the outside of the wrist just below the wrist joint. It took seven stitches to sew the tendon together and considerable work to stop the bleeding. He is all right now and will soon be fit again if no complications set in.

Quarterly Conference Convenes

EVERY SESSION FEATURED BY EXCEPTIONAL ATTENDANCE—HUNDREDS UNABLE TO GET IN ON SUNDAY NIGHT

The regular Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake of Zion was held on Saturday and Sunday, November 8th and 9th in the Stake House. Elder Melvin J. Ballard, as member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles, Assistant in the General Superintendency of the Y.M.M.I.A., was present representing the General church authorities and the Primary Associations of the church were represented by Pres May Anderson. The meetings Saturday forenoon and afternoon were for the consideration of Primary work and aims and were well attended and very instructive.

AUTHORITY STRESSED

This was a Priesthood Conference and at the first general session held Saturday night at 8 p.m. the sanctity of and necessity of Priesthood was stressed by all of the speakers. M. Elmer Ririe spoke first on the Personality of God and the necessity of Priesthood. J. U. Alfred followed and by scripture showed that "The Gospel in all Dispensations had been distinguished by the authority of Priesthood." Wm. Redd spoke next on "what we are doing and what we can do for the Aaronic Priesthood" and hoped to see Scout work co-ordinated with Priesthood work.

The congregation then sang "Oh Say What Is Truth."

Apostle Ballard spoke next on the value and vitality of Priesthood. The time may come when nearly everything we have will be borrowed by other churches, but two things they can't borrow is Priesthood and the gift and power of the Holy Ghost. This power of the Priesthood is the thing our opponents in righteousness hate most and also the thing that they cannot bestow. To cherish, honor, and magnify this gift and power was our responsibility and this Priesthood is the key that will permit us to pass on to our future high glory. Wives must help husbands to do their duty in order that the family relation may be eternal as it is supposed to be. Because the Priesthood is given free and to all it becomes a thing of naught to many, but its sacredness and power as a vitalizing and powerful influence in the church remains, and every man will be called to a very strict accounting for the manner in which he treats this most valuable and priceless gift. As humans we prize most highly that which cost us most, and we should, therefore, teach our boys to value the priceless gift of Priesthood. Speaking of promotion from one quorum to another, the speaker said that no unfaithful Elder should be made a Seventy and no unfaithful Seventy should be made a High Priest. With 40 p.c. of the Elders non-tithe-payers there is a great mission to bring them back.

SUNDAY MORNING

Pres. O. H. Snow was the first speaker taking for his subject "The Sacrament and Sacredness of Covenants we make when partaking of it. Obedience is always necessary and blessings are sure to follow. D. H. Gabraith stated that the power of Priesthood was the greatest power of all and related the calling of Aaron to show that before one could act it was essential to be called of God and to receive the authority of the Priesthood.

"Behold a Royal Army" was then sung by a Priesthood chorus conducted by C. B. Strong.

Bishop Ellis S. Heninger of Mughath spoke on the relationship of the Aaronic and Melchizedek Priesthood. Alena Evans, a deacon, told the story of the Restoration of the Lesser Priesthood by John the Baptist, and Lincoln Wood spoke of the necessity of a thorough training in all Priesthood activities by our departing missionaries.

The Priesthood chorus then sang "One Hundred Years."

Sister Anderson, President of the Primary of the church, then told a story illustrating the necessity of keeping close to our Guide.

Elder Ballard sang "A Mormon Boy" and then related some of his boyhood experiences, his reading the stories of Wilford Woodruff, Geo. Q. Cannon and other faith-promoting stories and the resolutions and determination that formed in his heart then to go to the Temples and to fulfill a mission. Both these resolves he said had come to pass.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

After the opening exercises on Sunday afternoon, the General church and Stake Authorities were presented by Pres. O. H. Snow and sustained by unanimous vote. One change was not here, Mrs. Georgina O'Brien and her councillors and board were released from the Stake Relief Society and Mrs. Julia Ririe was sustained as President, councillors and board member to be announced later.

Stake President H. S. Allen then spoke of the present depression and financial conditions which are confronting us and said it was a time for retrenchment. He encouraged the people to stay here and said for 42 years he had been in this district and had Town elections are drawing near. This year we have to elect three Councilmen, Mayor and three School Trustees. Who are they going to be? Nomination Day is early in December so there is not much time to lose. Everyone should be interested in these matters.

"THE LONE RIDER" WITH BUCK JONES ACTION PICTURE

DASHING DISPLAY OF SUPERB HORSEMANSHIP AMONG THE THRILLS OF FILM

Buck Jones, famed as an excellent actor as well as the greatest of daredevil riders, thrills his enthusiastic audience at the Capitol Theatre in "The Lone Rider," his first starring all-taking vehicle for Columbia Pictures, showing next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The action centers about Jim Lansing, a bandit who quits his evil ways when he meets pretty Mary Stevens. Jim has set out to rob the very stage coach in which Mary was travelling west.

Because of a split with his old gang he sets out to do it alone. The gang heat him to it—and in the mix-up that followed Jim rescues the girl. Impressed by Mary's confidence in him, Jim took her to her father, Judge Stevens, in Gold City. As a reward for his chivalry, the Judge made him a member of the Vigilantes, a committee formed to abolish outlawry. Jim's battles with his former gang, who plan a big robbery in Gold City, supply the rest of the action for this thrilling yarn.

UNVEILING PUT OFF UNTIL SPRING

Due to the heavy snow, the lateness of the season and the difficulty of working with cement in the cold weather, the unveiling of the Memorial has been postponed until next spring, probably Empire Day, May 24th. It is hoped by that time to have the grounds built up and planted, and the surroundings more nearly completed. More funds will be needed to fully complete the grounds etc., and in the interval something will be planned for this purpose.

MARRIED

DAHL — COSTLEY

Miss Dorothy Costley and Frehlin Dahl were married on Thursday, Nov. 6 in the Alberta Temple at Cardston. Both young people are well known and highly respected and have the best wishes of a host of friends. They will make their home here.

FISHER — QUINTON

Miss Lolla Quinton of Cardston, and Orrin P. Fisher of Hill Spring, who attended the A. C. here last winter, were married at Cardston in the Temple on Thursday, Nov. 13th. These young people have the best wishes of all their friends in their matrimonial journey. They are spending a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. S. I. May before going to Calgary for a few days.

PROFITABLE DISPOSAL OF CHEAP FEED WHEAT

By W. J. Harper, School of Agriculture, Claresholm, Alberta.

The problem of profitably disposing of low grade wheat has perhaps never been as acute as at present. Since selling it on the market cannot be considered if a profit is to be made, the question of feeding it at home is receiving serious consideration by farmers who have a supply of such grain on hand. It is the intention of this article to place before Alberta farmers the results of experimental work which has been carried on in Alberta and which may assist them in profitably feeding their low grade wheat—a drug on the market at present prices.

This subject is of particular interest to the hog and dairy farmer since he is entering a season of heavy grain consumption. For this reason the feeding of wheat to these two classes of livestock will be dealt with first, and succeeding articles will consider its use with relation to hogs, cattle, sheep and horses.

Under present market conditions, hogs are a profitable outlet for almost any class of grain. The fact that is not generally known is that feed wheat is the best hog feed that is grown in Western Canada. It produces more pork, at less cost than barley, which has usually been considered our best hog feed.

We are indebted to the University of Alberta for the following experimental results in feeding wheat to hogs. This work has been carried out during the past two years, under Alberta conditions, and is probably the most reliable information for Alberta farmers, which can be obtained.

Hogs fed a fair to good grade of feed wheat as a sole grain ration made more rapid and more economical gains than hogs fed barley, or any mixture of barley, oats or wheat. The hogs fed on wheat alone did not go off feed at any time, or show any ill effects as a result of their grain ration.

Barley and wheat gave almost identical results in the matter of the amount of feed used, and in rate of growth, but as the feed wheat was lower in market value, it proved the more profitable.

When oats were added to the wheat ration, the hogs made slower gains, and cost more to bring to market weight, since they had to be fed almost two weeks longer.

In the experiment mentioned the hogs preferred wheat to oats or barley. One group was allowed to run on self-feeders containing oats, barley and wheat, each in a separate feeder. They were fed for 114 days, and during that time each pig ate a daily ration of 4 pounds of wheat, less than half a pound of barley and about 1-4 pounds of oats.

The wheat fed hogs did not fatten so extensively and, when sold graded as well as any other group in the experiment.

One of the most interesting phases of this experiment was the comparison of feed wheat and No. 2 wheat as a hog feed. It was found that the feed wheat was more profitable and more satisfactory. The feed wheat sold through the hogs at $1.96 per bushel, the No. 2 wheat at $1.84 per bushel. The cost of labor and overhead charges are not considered in these figures. The hogs were sold on the market at $10.05 to 10.25 per cwt.

Very similar results were obtained by feeding frozen wheat. It proved a cheaper feed than 3 C.W. barley, promoted more rapid growth, and caused no digestive troubles. Frozen wheat was marketed through pigs at $1.14 per bushel, when pigs were selling at $8.00 per cwt. As in the former instance, labor charges were not considered.

From these results obtained in Alberta, from home-grown feeds, it is evident that hogs present a profitable outlet for low grade and frozen wheat.

The animals used in all these experiments were well bred Yorkshires, Lanworth and Berkshires, or a cross of two of these breeds. They were considered as bacon type hogs and most of them graded as such when

Chautauqua Programs Please Audiences

The Fall Chautauqua has come and gone. The contract has been fulfilled and we trust everyone is satisfied. It is not expected that any Chautauqua will be held here next year.

The programs this year were as good, and in the estimation of many better than any yet presented. The two dramas "Turn to the Right" and "The Patsy" were well presented.

The musical programs were exceptionally good. The Lowell Patton artists on Monday afternoon and evening were enjoyed by all. The work of Mr. Patton at the console in accompaniments and solo work, was a joy to all who heard him and proved his unusual ability. The singing of Mr. Newell and Miss Robinson in solo work as well as their duets, was wonderful.

The Elias Tamburitzas Serenaders of Jugo Slavia pleased their audiences immensely. The instruments were more or less a novelty to the audience and their performance was of a very high character. In vocal work as well as in instrumental they made a very creditable showing indeed.

Private Peal was forceful, entertaining and very outspoken in his denunciation of War as a means of settling troubles, and certainly gained the respect of his audience in his straightforward manner.

URGES PURCHASE OF EMPIRE GOODS

Ottawa, November 13: (Special to the Recorder)—A splendid article written by Jean Graham was recently issued in the Canadian Home Journal. It dealt with shopping in the Empire and she insists that Canadian manufacturers are quite equal to the demand of today. She says:

"Many years ago, a certain wise British statesman advised us to think imperially." Ever since the late Joseph Chamberlain gave us that advice we British subjects have been warring out political jargon, until we no longer now understand the difference between Australia and New Zealand, while Toronto actually is interested in the aspirations of Gandhi. The advance in transportation and sound transmission may account partly for the increase in imperial acquaintanceship. But there is a firmer and greater bond to-day between the nations which form the British Empire. The offering made in those dark years (1914-15), when the mothers of all British countries made the supreme sacrifice in the cause of freedom and righteousness has created a unity unknown before.

However, in recent years, the loyalty to country and empire, has been expressed in material form, as British subjects have realized that their patriotic spirit should take a practical expression. It is all very well to slogan "Rule Britannia" and "God Save the King," but we must let our patriotism touch our pocket-books, if it is to be the real thing. The women of the country are the purchasers of household supplies, and often of the clothing for every member of the household. Then, let the housewife see to it that she gives preference to goods made in Canada and in other countries of the Empire. Canada is referred to proudly as the granary of the Empire—and our flour supplies are inferior to none. There is no excuse for the Canadian woman not to be a good cook when the Golden West sends us such wonderful flour in thousands of barrels. Some years ago, the "Manitoba Free Press" in a desire to impress upon Canadians the importance of their grain products, sent out, as gifts at Christmas, tiny barrels of flour from Vermilion, Alberta, the furthest north flour mills in the British Empire, where Jesuit missionaries preached several centuries ago. Now, we do not need to be urged to buy our flour—nor our fruit—but our manufactures are another story. Many of us, who talk with enthusiasm of our British traditions and who wave the Union Jack on all national holidays,

"A French-Canadian Wedding in 1830"

A hundred years ago when our great-grandfathers and grandmothers were marrying and giving in marriage, the French-Canadians made the occasion one of the most colorful and joyous in their lives. Reconstruction of such a wedding with the utmost fidelity to costume and customs has been done by Alderic Bourgeois, Montreal newspaperman and revue writer, who has written a sketch with the above title for the Quebec Festival to be held at the Chateau Frontenac, October 16-18. Musical settings will be by Oscar O'Brien, Montreal composer and song writer.

One of the old customs was the arrival of uninvited guests, attracted by the good cheer and general gaiety, who paid their seat with songs and dances. These will be represented in the sketch by Lionel Darnais, Miville Belleau, Emile Boucher and Fernand Champagne, of the Bytown Troubadours, who will keep things moving with true French-Canadian verve, singing in all 15 old wedding songs harmonized by Mr. O'Brien. There will be choruses of men and women's voices, a quartette of young girls, fiddlers and folk dancers.

LOYALTY

Christmas is drawing near and with it the usual queries about gifts, toys, etc., and the best place to buy them. The big mail order houses make a strong bid for this business and with illustrations and well worded descriptions, they make the appeal very realistic. Then there is the question of price. It usually makes it to appear that the article is really worth much more than is asked for it.

It presents a real problem to local merchants to combat this. People must know of what can be obtained, they must be appealed to one way or another and goods must be offered that compare with mail order goods. Can it be done? We answer yes, because it has been done. The profit may have to be reduced, but if we could get a quick turnover, and CASH business we could sell for less.

One other point must be considered here. How loyal are we to one another as one business man to another. Does the grocery man go to the dry goods man to buy his clothes, or does he send to the mail order house or wait for a traveller because he can buy wholesale. When the garage man needs a new pair of shoes does he go to the home town merchant with the cash in his hand and ask for a CASH price on the shoes, or does he get a Money Order at the post office and send away because the local dealer doesn't sell on tick for what the Mail Order house does for cash. This credit or cash business is something that must be reckoned with.

Competition is getting keener and price making is becoming a very serious business. Loyalty, absolute and whole-hearted amongst the business men of all lines, protecting each other's interests by passing along information useful and timely to the trade and spending our money with each other would build up a confidence and good feeling towards each other that would make us all feel better. NOW would be an excellent time to try it.

RUBBER FOOTWEAR EXPORT IMPORTANT

Ottawa, Nov., 13. (Special to the Recorder)—Canada surpassed United States as an exporter of rubber footwear during the first six months of 1930. A department of commerce report shows the United States export fell from 5,504,000 pairs in the first six months of 1929 to 4,025,000 pairs in the corresponding period of 1930. Canada's export fell less than that of most other exporting countries about five per cent, from 4,810,000 to 4,586,000 pairs and thus the Dominion took second place as the supplier of rubber footwear to the world.

Japan now leads in this trade. Japan greatly increased her export jumping them from 3,280,000 in 1929 to 5,394,000 in 1930.

BLESSED RESIGNATION

"Yes, dearie, it's heaps better now since the doctor told 'im 'e'd never be able to work again."—Humorist.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF SEEN IN SEADY PRODUCTION

Employment Service Council's plans to solve unemployment difficulties by stimulating public works construction may bring temporary relief, but permanent relief can come only thru concerted action of organized industry to regularize production.

This is the opinion of Stanley I. Shafer, Superintendent of the Hamilton, Ontario, plant of the Procter and Gamble Company. He is administrator of the Procter and Gamble plan of guaranteed employment which kept its force steadily at work despite so-called economic depression.

The soap company has scheduled its production to maintain a steady, year-round force of workers in its Canadian and American plants. This gives employees a guarantee of at least forty-eight full-pay weeks a year in Hamilton and the other plants without fear of lay-off due to depression.

The plan has had seven years test since Colonel William Cooper Procter, president of the company, announced in August, 1922, that for the first time in industrial history a large corporation would assure its thousands of employees steady work regardless of seasonal fluctuations which in so many instances cause perfect shut-downs.

The basis of the plan is simple: probable production for the coming year is estimated on the basis of the past year's demands together with a study of factors which are likely to affect consumption. Production is then regulated to meet the estimated consumption errors of estimate have so far, with the Procter and Gamble Company, been negligible. Variations between demand and supply are compensated for by adequate warehousing and controlled deliveries to dealers.

An employee becomes eligible for the guarantee plan at the end of six months. Under the plan, the turnover at the Hamilton plant was less than seven per cent. of this the greater part represented the workers who had been there less than six months.

From the points of view of management and employee this regularization of production and employment has succeeded, according to Mr. Shafer, who points out also that the Procter and Gamble industrial relations program is perhaps the most complete in the world because in addition to guaranteed employment, there is a Profit Sharing, Insurance and Sick Benefit plan, and employee representation on the company's Board of Directors.

Colonel Procter, originator of the plan, has said: "Greater efficiency, elimination of waste, lower unit costs and increased effectiveness and loyalty of workers have resulted. While the advantage cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, a financial gain has been effected. I think there is nothing peculiar in the soap business that makes such a plan more adaptable to it than many more industries. I believe that in the very great majority of industries, the average annual consumption is approximately the same, with out much fluctuation from year to year, and that the problem of providing for distribution and warehousing is not a difficult one to work out if study is centered upon the special industry."

Here and There

"The Canadian Government is co-operating with ranchers and exporters in their efforts to secure a market in Great Britain for Canadian cattle," said Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, who visited Montreal recently to inspect an experimental shipment of western steers at the stockyards in that city. The cattle, comprising 415 head of shorthorns, Herefords, Angus and pure-bred steers, were brought to Montreal on Canadian Pacific Railway for shipment to Manchester, England.

Analyzing the causes of business depression in Canada, E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in a speech before the American Institute of Steel Construction, recently recalled American suggestions that cancellation of foreign debts due the United States would cure present world conditions and benefit the country that cancelled them. "It is not surprising," said Mr. Beatty, "that your men of great vision have reached the conclusion that if they (the war debts) were removed, industry would be stimulated, trade would expand, and prosperity would return, and out of the revivification of the world conditions, would inevitably come great benefit to the United States."

A forty-mile ski marathon from Lake Louise to Banff will be one of the big features of the Banff Winter Carnival which will open February 1st next. The run will cross turbulent mountain streams and will follow ascending and descending ridges of great height. "No smooth travelling in the last half," is the way ski-ing experts who have planned it, describe the event.

Fur farming in Canada is now established as a leading industry. The latest available figures show that the industry to-day represents a capital value of $22,980,617, of which $16,401,453 is invested in fur-bearing animals. Prince Edward Island is the leader in the industry, with Ontario and Quebec not far behind. Ten years ago total value of fur-bearing animals on fur farms in Canada was placed at $4,723,105.

Showing of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the month of September, in which an increase of $1,721,645 was shown in net earnings over the total for September of last year, in the face of an actual decrease in gross earnings, is a tribute to a management's ability to adapt itself to unfavorable conditions, according to a financial authority of Montreal. The showing itself is not an indication of improved business for gross earnings were only $19,192,325 as against $19,551,217 one year ago, a decline of $358,891, but it is a favorable development for the company itself. What was done was to cut down operating expenses from $14,540,597, shown in September one year ago, to $12,469,060 for September, 1930. Some indication of what retrenchment in overhead costs could accomplish was given in the August figures, when starting out with a decline in gross earnings of $2,182,387, the company was able to show a net increase in net of $388,376 over the corresponding period of last year. The results for September are naturally even better than this.

INTERESTING LINKS IN CANADA'S HISTORY

Ottawa, Nov. 13th: (Special to the Recorder)—The proclamation issued by Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, revoking the grant to the Hudson Bay Company of exclusive trading rights with the Indians is one of the interesting documents which is on view at the Dominion Archives. The document reads:—

"British Colonies, (Coat of Arms) Proclamation! By His Excellency, James Douglas, Governor and Commander in Chief of Her Majesty's Colony of Vancouver's Island and its dependencies."

"Whereas Her Majesty has been pleased by an instrument made under Her Sign Manual to revoke the Crown Grant dated the 30th day of our Lord, 1829, to the Hudson Bay Company, for the exclusive trading rights with the Indians, insofar as the said Grant embraces or extends to the territories comprised within the colony of the British Empire."

"I, James Douglas, governor of the colony, now proclaim and publish this instrument revoking the said grant for the information and guidance of all persons interested therein."

"Given under my hand and seal at Victoria, Vancouver's Island, this 3rd day of November, 1859, the twenty-second year of Her Majesty's reign."

Town Planning in Alberta

(Being a series of short articles explanatory of the provisions of The Alberta Town Planning Act and Regulations thereunder.)

BY HORACE L. SEYMOUR
Provincial Director of Town Planning

Article 9.

PROVINCIAL PARKS

In the Town Planning Act 1929, provision was made for the purchase of land for provincial park purposes. In March 1930, The Provincial Parks and Protected Areas Act was passed, under the provisions of which a Provincial Parks Board has been appointed composed of:

Mr. J. D. Robertson, Deputy Minister of Public Works, Chairman.
Mr. Alex. Paton, Provincial Landscape Gardener.

Mr. Horace L. Seymour, Provincial Director of Town Planning.

This board will have charge of the control and management of Provincial Parks. Provision is also made for the appointment, by the Province, of a Board of Management for any particular park or area.

Under the provisions of the Parks and Protected Areas Act there may also be constituted "protected" areas for the purpose of protecting and preserving therein objects of natural beauty, fossil remains or other objects, animate or inanimate, of geological, ethnological, historical or other scientific interest. In such protected areas there may be forbidden or regulated the excavation of fossil remains, and penalties may be prescribed including those for interference with "historic objects."

CHICAGO STOCK SHOW MARKS THANKSGIVING

Chicago's mammoth Thanksgiving season celebration, which for the past 31 years has been otherwise known as the International Live Stock Exposition, will soon be again in progress.

This year from November 29 to December 3, the big amphitheatre, adjoining buildings, and pens out at the Chicago Union Stock Yards will, according to the assured prediction of the management of the exposition, be more than ever crammed with the finest products of the farms of not only this continent but in some instances from the very most distant parts of the world.

NEW SOUTH WALES SENDS GRAIN

Among the early entries sent to the International Grain and Hay Show this year were those of three wheat growers from New South Wales. These will be matched in competition with grains grown in practically every province of Canada and state in the Union where farming is of importance. The Grain and Hay Show, though a department of the International Live Stock Exposition, is in its size, scope, and importance a sizeable exposition in itself. Almost since its inception when it was introduced eleven years ago into the ever enlarging International, it has been the foremost competitive display of field crops in the world.

According to B. H. Heide, secretary manager of the exposition, the closing dates on making entry of exhibits in the various departments are November 1 for all livestock classes other than the carlots; November 10, for the Grain and Hay Show; and November 22 for carlots of cattle, sheep and swine.

BIG HORSE SHOW PLANNED

The International Horse Show is being planned to provide the fullest of evening entertainments. The management predicts that the International arena will be the setting for the keenest competition between the finest specimens of the leading stables of the land that meet here each year for his close and climax of the horse season.

more faith in it today than ever. He encouraged the parents to put their boys and girls in the Agricultural School if possible to prepare them to meet the agricultural competition of the future.

The Stake Choir which furnished music at all sessions, under the leadership of C. F. Tollestrup, then sang "The God of Israel."

Sister Anderson then spoke of the teaching of the boys and girls and of the Primary program of teaching the Articles of Faith. Faith must always be the foundation of Gospel teaching.

A composition of C. F. Tollestrup was then sung, Wm. Clark singing the verse and 8 voices helping in the chorus.

Elder Ballard said this was the 54 meeting he had attended in the past 30 days, and that he had attended 12 a day in Canada. He endorsed Pres. Allen's remarks and said that he knows of no locality that produced better men and women than right here. He encouraged the getting of wealth as a means of rendering great service. The best that money can do is to provide a way of our getting food, clothes, a home in which to live and to help us prepare to render service to our fellowmen. It is not an end in itself, and those who make of it an end find disappointment and unhappiness at the end of the road. He read from the Bible and the Doctrine and Covenants regarding uses of wealth, tithing, blessing for payment of tithes and offerings, and said that material blessings were smallest part of our reward as the spiritual blessing of health, strength, wisdom and knowledge were the real treasures. Our boys and girls said the speaker was our real riches and are the harvest of God's people.

SUNDAY EVENING

All attendance records were shattered for Conference meetings at the Sunday evening meeting when the Men and Glenner Girls of the Stake furnished most of the program. The seats were crowded and many stood during the two hour program, in the aisles and at the back of the hall, probably 1,300 being present.

The first part of the program was a rehearsal of pioneers and their parts in building the district; and Pres. H. S. Allen and wife, Bishop Levi Harker of Magrath, O. Raymond Knight, A. M. Wilde of Welling and the late Theodore Brander of Stirling, were all shown life size by proxy, in a great book or album, and while the character stood thus posed Miss Thelma Smith read the stories of their early life and experiences. Then the scene changed to the present day and Miss Hazel Woolley rehearsed Mormon Ideals, Louis Regan gave the Challenge to present day youth to adhere to and receive the heritage that had been bequeathed them by their progenitors. Dean Rolfsen, Leonard Evans and Orpha Vance accepted the Challenge on behalf of the 250 young men and women present, who all pledged themselves to abide by L. D. S. principles and teachings. During these numbers a number of songs were sung by the youth, and with the zeal and fervor of the singers made a very stirring appeal to the congregation.

Presentations of flowers were then made to the Stake Presidency and their wives, H. S. Allen, O. H. Snow and J. W. Evans; to C. R. Wing as Stake Superintendent of Y.M.M.I.A. to Mrs. L. D. King as Stake President of Y.L.M.I.A. and to Sister Anderson Pres of Church Primaries.

Apostle Ballard was presented with pictures of Southern Alberta scenes.

Pres. Allen made a few remarks in accepting the flowers and expressed his appreciation at the splendid program rendered.

Elder Ballard spoke last and after expressing his faith in the youth and his pleasure at the splendid program, he made many promises to the young people assembled, if they would keep their pledges and promises and "Carry On."

PROSPERITY WEEK SEES IM- PROVEMENT IN TRADE OUTLOOK

Ottawa, Oct. 29; (Special to the Recorder) — "Canadian Prosperity Week" sponsored by the government from October 11th to 18th, in an effort to stimulate general optimism by increasing the sale of Canadian products, was very successful.

Wholesale and retail trades in the East of Canada are more active with a better demand noted, particularly for wearing material. Ontario production of shoes is being well maintained. August production in all Canadian factories totalled 542,886 pairs, 16 per cent less than leather footwear at out in August last year. The general leather goods trade is slightly improved. Higher grades of paper are in somewhat higher demand and prices are steady.

Superphosphate fertilizers will soon be manufactured in Hamilton and a Toronto firm is shortly to make fine chemicals.

Sales of new cars in the Prairie Provinces in September were slightly ahead of the August figure but were much below last year. Accessories are moving fairly well with a good demand for small radios.

British Columbia reports a slight lowering in canned goods prices but prices on canned salmon are firm though the sale is slow.

EXPECT ST. LAWRENCE CANAL PROJECT TO BE STARTED WITHIN YEAR

Ottawa, Nov. 5; (Special to the Recorder.) Reports are circulating in the capital that 1931 will see definite steps taken to make a reality of the St. Lawrence deep waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic. President Hoover is pressing thru the United States Minister to Canada for a resumption of negotiations which he hopes will lead to actual work on the undertaking. Premier Bennett has said the subject will receive his attention as soon as he returns from England. His primary task will be to reach an agreement with the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario as to the respective rights of these provinces and the Dominion in the development.

Several times in the past two years Premier King appeared to have reached the basis of such agreement, but each time last minute difficulties arose. The progress he did make, however, will enable Mr. Bennett to take up where he left off and it may be expected that the new Premier will have sympathetic cooperation of the Ontario Ministry. The single question at issue in the development of the waterway is the international section. The completion of the Welland Canal by Canada covers that phase of the project while the work now under way by the Beauharnois Power Corporation will complete the navigation channel in Quebec, save for the short stretch around the Lachine Rapids at Montreal. In connection with its power development the Beauharnois company will complete and turn over to the government a navigation canal 600 feet wide and 27 feet deep over a length of some 14 miles. This canal will cost over $16,000,000 and is the company's contribution to the waterways project. The government will install the two locks necessary to its use. The canal will be available in 1932, which will be some years before the international section can possibly be completed. Expectation here that Mr. Bennett will strive for the early commencement

It is perhaps wise to mention here that less satisfactory results will be obtained from hogs which are not well bred, and which do not represent any particular type. It takes less feed to raise a good hog than to raise a poor one, and the results are more satisfactory and much more profitable.

The question of feeding a mineral mixture is also worthy of mention at this time. To the man who is feeding skim milk in fairly large quantities, lack of mineral is seldom a serious problem, but under other circumstances, it is often the cause of slow growth, unthriftiness, stiffness, and other serious hog conditions.

In any case the feeding of a mineral mixture is a wise precaution and is to be highly recommended. The mixture should be kept in front of them at all times, and each hog as a general rule, will eat about 1/2 pound per day. The cost is hardly worth considering about 6 cents per pig per month.

The following mixture, known at the University of Alberta as Mineral mixture No. 1 is a good one, will give excellent results.

Slack coal 76.5 lbs.
Salt 20 lbs.
Air slacked lime 2.5 lbs.
Sulphur 1 lbs.

These weights do not have to be followed to the ounce. 75 lbs. of coal is quite accurate enough for practical purposes.

Another mixture, slightly more costly, is as follows:

Slack coal 40 lbs.
Salt 20 lbs.
Air slacked lime 38 lbs.
Sulphur 2 lbs.

This mixture costs about 86c. per cwt. and has proven to worth $20.00 per cwt. in the amount of grain that it saves.—Lethbridge Herald.

ent of work on the international section is given support by the declaration of Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, that he hoped to see completion of the project during his term as minister.

URGES PURCHASE OF EMPIRE

will avoid the purchase of Canadian shoes or perfume or toys. Suppose that the Germans still produce the rettiest and most ingenious toys in the world. Is that any reason why we should give them our perfectly good Canadian dollars, in exchange for a doll or a horn? Let us develop and encourage toy industries of our own, instead of building up the manufactures of those who once tried to crush British trade—and even Britain, herself.

Then a Canadian woman may come along and ask: "What about our own manufactures? Why don't they produce better goods?" Now, it just happens that she was complaining of Canadian shoes. Fortunately, we were able to tell her where she could buy good Canadian shoes, and she has been grateful ever since. In hosiery and gloves, Canada produces excellent goods, and everyone knows that the modern woman must be fastidious in the choice of each. Then, in the matter of underwear or lingerie, we find that Canadian manufacturers are quite equal to the demands of to-day. This is saying a great deal, for we believe that never were women more exacting than in these days, when dainty "undies" (as our English friends call them) are to be considered. Then in the finer toilet products the Canadian manufacturer has made great strides, until the soap, toilet water, perfume and face powder can be compared with Parisian products. In spite of the fact—of which we should be proud—that the Canadian manufacturer pays higher wages than the Frenchman or the German, he has been able to produce toys and jewellery which vie with anything from Berlin or even Geneva. While we are not opposed to world trade, we wish to place Canada and other British nations first even if it costs fifty cents or a dollar to encourage our own folk. There is an imperialism which we all dislike—a form of snobbery which prostrates itself before a decoration or a title. But the true imperialism is both practical and ideal when it says:—Buy from Britons first.

NEW GIANT PULLS FASTEST TRAINS

WESTERN CANADA passengers to the East this fall and winter, going to Montreal by way of Toronto, will have the opportunity of riding on a train hauled by the fastest locomotive in the Dominion. The crack Canadian National train, "The International Limited," operating between Montreal, Toronto, and Chicago, is now being hauled by new Hudson type locomotives (5700), just released for this service. This, the fastest train in the world, for the distance covered, to keep to schedule will sometimes have to travel at the rate of 80 miles an hour.

The upper photograph, taken at the Montreal Locomotive Works, where the giant was built and four others like it are now being completed, shows C. E. Brooks, Chief of Motive Power, and other officers of the Canadian National Railway, and officers of the Locomotive Works, including H. C. Butler, Manager. Their height is contrasted effectively with the enormous drivers in front of which they are standing. In the lower photograph 5700 is compared with the tiny work locomotive which pulled it out of the shops to have its photograph taken. The little fellow looks almost comical beside the powerful bulk of the Hudson, but for all that it could pull the 331 tons about as part of its day's work. 5700 weighs more than 331 tons, in fact, and is within a fraction of 92 and a half feet long. The water and coal capacity of its tender is greater than that of any other locomotive on the system, 29 tons of coal and 14,000 Imperial gallons of water. With the booster, the locomotive has a maximum tractive power of 53,300 pounds, and it has a boiler pressure of 275 pounds. Trimness of appearance as well as power and speed has been considered in its design, and it possesses many features new in the steam locomotive history of Canada.
